A Note From Mrs.

He'ic,
 We are looking at a crazy week coming up! Fingers crossed, we will be in school, but we will be doing synchronous eLearning in the event of a snow day. Synchronous eLearning means students will be required to get on a class Google Meet at one point in the day. Students came home today with their Chromebooks. If we have an eLearning, I will send an additional email with more information about the assignments. Please let me know if you have any questions. Have a great week.
